The program has a main menu where it has 4 options for the user.

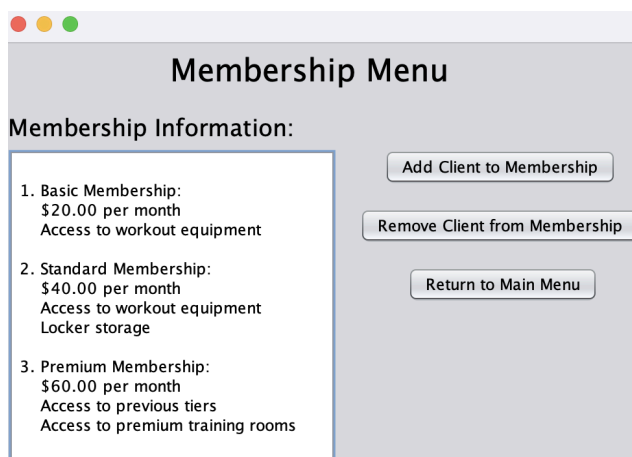

This is the main menu:

Here is the functionality of the client option where you can add, remove or modify a person saving the information in the system.

When we go back to the main menu, the other option that we are going to see is a membership menu where you can add a client to one of those memberships available.

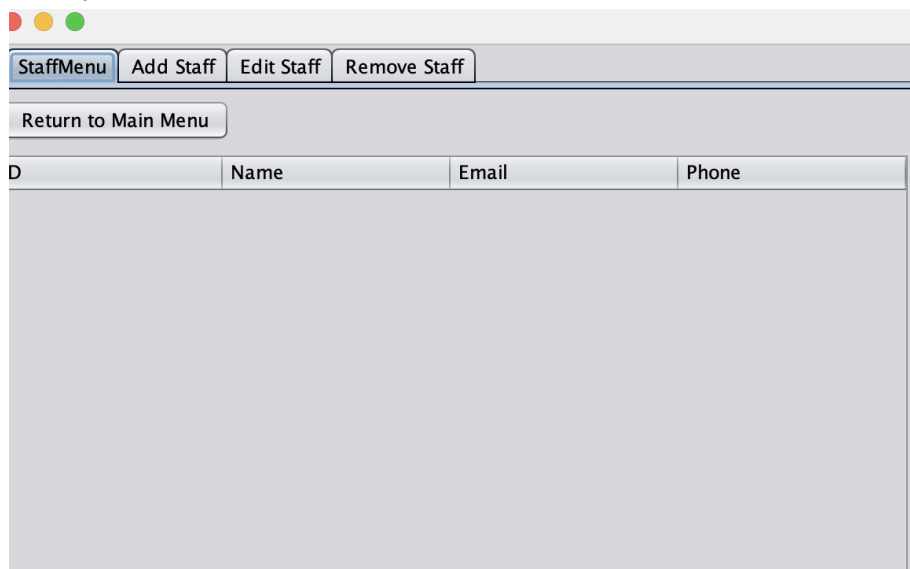

After, you have the competitions menu where you can add a competition that you like for your client with the description and everything.
